UNDERGROUND LEAK DETECTION

Is your heating system or mains water losing pressure but are not sure where the leak is coming from?

This may indicate that you have an undetected underground water leak.

A WATER LEAK ON YOUR PROPERTY CAN CAUSE SERIOUS DAMAGE

TMG Plumbing & Heating Services leak detection service use thermal imaging, pressure testing and ground microphone equipment to quickly and reliably pinpoint leakages without having to dig up or remove large areas of flooring.

Our leak detection service will not only locate your water leak but we will then recommend the remedial works needed.

HOW DO I KNOW IF I HAVE A WATER LEAK?

Pooling of water on the ground

Damp or unusual discoloration of soil

Cracks in concrete

Water stains on walls or ceilings

Damp spots on floors and walls

Bad odours especially around drains

Rising damp or black mould in places

Sudden drop in water pressure

Sudden drop in heating pressure

Gurgling noise on the heating system

Dirty or rusty water supply

Constantly needing to top up boiler pressure

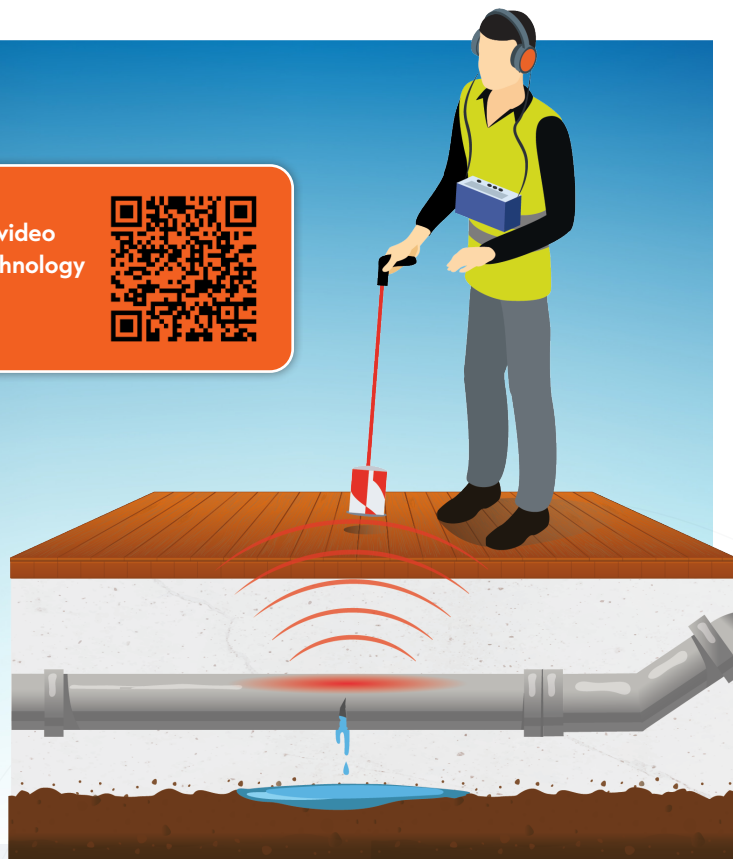

THERMAL IMAGING DETECTION

Check out our short video showing our leak technology equipment in action.

TMG Plumbing & Heating Services use thermal imaging, pressure testing and acoustic leak detection to detect where your leak is.

This helps to pinpoint the leak more accurately so large areas of floors do not need to be dug up or removed.

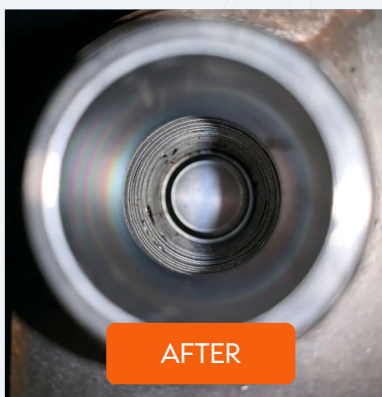

POWER FLUSHING

Blockages of heating systems from rust can cause issues that may stop us finding the leak. In that instance the heating system may need to be power flushed to get the system clean enough to detect the leak.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

In some cases, insurance policies may cover the cost of the leak detection and repairs if the leak has caused significant damage. However, coverage varies depending on the policy and the circumstances of the leak. We recommend that you contact your insurance company before we begin our investigations.
